

Gaylord Roller Mills – D. Piehl & Co.

The Gaylord Roller Mills enjoys an enviable reputation for the products it turns out. David Piehl and Co., the present proprietors, took charge of the mill in 1900, and since then have built up a fine business. Their brands of flour find a ready market in the many towns along the Mackinaw division of the M.C.R.R. and as far north as the Soo, David Piehl attending personally to the trade at these points.

The mills are equipped with the latest improved machinery, which under charge of proficient millers, turns out flour that is second to none. A line of feed is also manufactured and cash is paid for all kinds of grain grown by our farmers.

The mill has a capacity every 24 hours of 125 barrels of flour, gives employment to five people and is doing a most satisfactory business.

Messrs. Piehl and Co. are enterprising business men, good citizens and worthy of the patronage they enjoy.
