

Frank J. Shipp, Clerk

Mr. Frank J. Shipp came to Gaylord in 1898 as superintendent of schools and for five succeeding years filled the position with credit and lasting benefit to the schools. In 1903 he entered the employ of the Dayton Last Block Works as bookkeeper and assistant to Manager Wm. H. Kemper.

When he first came to Gaylord, Mr. Shipp foresaw that it was destined to be a place of considerable importance and took a deep interest in its progress. He is now serving his third term as village clerk, is a member of the school board, vice-president of the Huff and Mitchell Co., is ever on the alert for the advancement of Gaylord.

Mr. Shipp is a firm believer in Gaylord as a superior manufacturing point and his masterful article elsewhere in this issue on this subject in interesting and logical reading.

Mr. Shipp graduated from Albion College in 1896 and taught school in Montana two years before coming to Gaylord. Fraternally he is a Mason, K.P., and M.W., having at various times filled different offices in these organizations. Personally he is a citizen who is very much alive and a power for progress in the community in which he lives.
